DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: no line number on abstract, specification and claims. Appropriate correction is required. The preferred format for numbering the claims is to number each line of every claim, with each claim beginning with line 1. For ease of reference by both the Examiner and the Applicant, all future correspondence should include the recommended line numbering.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

- 3. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
  - a. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that they fail to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. These claims are an omnibus type claims.

Art Unit: 2182

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) The invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 5. Claims 1-6 and 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fiszman et al. U.S. Patent Number: 6,115,646 (hereinafter referred to as "Fiszman".)
- 6. Referring to claims 1 and 9, Fiszman teaches a method and a program storage device for supporting automated management of supporter-owned resources in a system having at least one repository and a resource managing program means, comprising the steps of [see column 3 lines 1-30; figure 4 element 1-7]: accessing a repository comprising requests each defining an action to be performed, or a desired state to be achieved, the state being associated with a respective one of said resources [see column 5 lines 35-67; column 6 lines 1-3; figure 3 element 82]; reorganizing said requests into a chain of requests

Art Unit: 2182

[see column 9 - lines 9-26; figure 4 - element 'Scheduler']; and invoking resource managing program means for handling the chain of said requests [see column 9 - lines 23-39.]

- 7. Referring to claims 2 and 10, Fiszman teaches in which said requests define desired states of operating system maintained resources, wherein the method further comprises the step of invoking supporter program means for ensuring that said resources are set according to said requests [see column 9 lines 9-50.]
- 8. Referring to claims 3 and 11, Fiszman teaches further comprising the step of using a standardized interface for said invocation of supporter programs [see column 7 lines 33-36, 49-64.]
- 9. Referring to claims 4 and 12, Fiszman teaches further comprising at least one of the steps of: checking for inconsistencies caused by one or more requests, generating one or more new requests as a child request of an already existing request, simulating the execution of said requests, executing updates of resources and generating special requests for activation, making updates known to the operating system, and reversing updates done before [see column 8 lines 47-65; column 9 lines 40-44.]

Art Unit: 2182

- 10. Referring to claims 5 and 13, Fiszman teaches further comprising the step of generating a user-readable protocol in which effects of execution of one of said steps according to the preceding claim are logged with respective settings of said resources [see column 9 lines 58-63.]
- 11. Referring to claim 6, Fiszman teaches a computer program comprising code portions adapter for performing the steps according to the method according to claim 1 when said program is loaded into a computer device [see abstract.]
